

Co-inertia: position of the plots sampled. The beginning of the arrow is the position of the plot described by the environmental data set; the end of the arrow is the position of the site described by the fern abundance.